The report says that the prominence of the state os a manufacturing state of the state os a manufacturing state of the state os a manufacturing state. Brass and Brenze Lead.

Brass and bronze products are the leading industries of the state. In the year 1909 the state ranked first in the combined value of the brass and bronze products in the United States. Two-fifths of the total value of foun-dry and machine shop products for the United States in 1999 were produced in Connecticut. In 1904, exclusive of government es tablishments almost four-fifths of the total value of ammunition and over one-fourth of the total value of fire-arms manufactured in the United States were reported from manufacturers located in Connecticut. In 1909 the state was first in the total value of he state was first in the total value of lese combined products. Clocks and Watches. The state ranked first in the produc ion of clocks and watches in the value f its production. In 1904 nearly hree-fourths of the total value o clocks manufactured in the United States were made in Connecticut. Every city and borough for which comparative figures are available, ex-ept New London, shows an increas-n value of products for the ten year ducts of the state amounted to 4.6 per and for each five year period. New London shows a decrease of 4.8 per cent. from 1944 to 1909, due to the decline of shipbuilding. The largest relative gains in value of products dur-ing the decade were as follows: Stamord, 132.8 per cent.; New Eritain, 98.5 er cent., and Bridgeport, 95.8 per ent. For most of the cities shown the percentage of increase in product were greater from 1904 to 1999 than from 1899 to 1904.

In 1909 the foundries and machine shops in the city of Bridgeport turned out products valued at $9,752, or 14.5 per cent. of the total for the state. The corset industry had an output of $5,899,000, or 53.8 per cent, of the pro-duction of the state. Hartford shows an increase of 56.6 per cent. In the value of its products and 20.4 per cent. In the number of wage earners. These gains, the report states, are due to the increase in the manufacture of automobiles, foundr and machine shop products, rubbe goods and typewriters and supplies These, it says, are the four leading in-dustries of the city. dustries of the city.

Rev. Welcome E. Bates of Mystic egave an address on That Old Ox, an interesting subject which shows the Biblical justification for prohibitory I naasures.

The mid-afternoon intermission was ollowed by the report for the year of County Organizer Ernest Allison Smith of Norwich. The substance of his re-port is as follows: Three Suggestions.

A vote is the only language politi-cling understand. The liquor traffic has been in posities 50 years, dictating nominations. To destroy its political power all men opposed to it must uiti-mately stand together in one political organization. It will be a prohibition party, no matter what you call it. The time seems right for such a political realignment, "Between right and wrong there is no sround save battle ground." there is no ground save battle ground So my suggestions are three; 1. Taking as our starting point that the liquer traffic is worthy of death, men of all parties should get logether for permanent, organized, national ef-In union is strength Our united hest should regard the stacking the base of supply-the rewery, 3. We must see to it that our laws when made are enforced. That means Units to secure national prohibition and enforce it when secured.

Pledges amounting to $1,388 were collected during the year. The decrease in expenses as compared with 1910 was $181.81. Mr. Smith said there were 20,000 prohibitionists pledged to vote for a prohibition governor.

Several Addresses. Dr. Benjamin F. Beardsley of Hartord, who talked about the physician's relation to the use of intoxicants, was followed by Frank S. Robbins of Presn whose subject was The Citizen' tespensibility. Fairfield County Or canizer Eugene L. Richards of Cannon rings spoke on Business Prosperity its Friends and Foos. He said in A meeting of the senior class was held Monday afternoon at the close of school, at the Academy. President McCormick called the meeting to order. The secretary's report was read and approved. The president then stated that the meeting had been called for the purpose of hazeles the market for clothing shows the same shows old drunkard in the country is a lost market for clothing, shoes, etc. Every home ruined by rum is a lost market for groceries, meat, produce, etc. Rum cuts out the market for luxuries in many homes and restricts to the buy-ing of the direct necessities. "Rum cuts out of the market, to a greater or less extent, thousands whom it puts in jails and prisons, poorhouses insune asylums, hospitals, etc.

"Liquor makes unnecessary expense by breeding parasites and increasing taxes. The thief, gambler and dive-seeper take money that ought to go for other things, and give nothing of real value in return. The liquor traffit breeds these business counterfeits, and murderers also. The caring for criminals is a dead lors to a nation. It coses less to prevent their mazz-facture than to care for them after they are made."
